Pandit: A Service Level Distributed Proxy.

Eric Gerard Moynihan

November 2021

1 Outline

This project entails creating a proxy that runs on each host machine in a cluster, converting requests and responses to relevant services into Protobufs.

These Protobufs can then be distributed to relevant instances of the proxy running on other hosts for caching purposes.